Today I feel better because yesterday I spent my time for rest and took some medicines. So today I decided to go outside.

In the morning, I took a train from Takeshita Station to Hakata Station for sending Earth who is my Thai friend to the Hakata Bus Terminal. She moved to Miyazaki city for doing her internship program at Hoei Group.

After that, I feel hungry so much. So I walked around Hakata Station for looking something to eat. I went to Japanese restaurant where is in Hakata Station.

I ordered breakfast set. All of my set have a bowl of rice, Saba shioyaki (a grilled Mackerel with salt), soft-boiled egg, Tofu, Clam miso soup and some side dishes. I really like Clam miso soup so much then ordered this soup again.

In the evening, I went to "Foleo" where is the big supermarket near my guesthouse. I think mostly of goods and foods from this supermarket are cheaper than 7eleven, Lawson and Family mart.

I saw many Sashimi and Sushi Sets is lower price than Sushi restaurants. And after 8 P.M., they will mark down all of their Sashimi and Sushi set 50%. I saw many people around the foods shelf like It's the half-yearly sale. I tried to buy one of Sushi sets.

After payment, A cashier didn't take my Sushi set in to a plastic bag but she gave 1 plastic bag to me. She told me that you must take your Sushi set in to the bag by yourself. This is my new things to learn from Japanese. It is different from my country. In Thailand, a cashiers will take a goods in to plastic bag and they will send the bag to their customers.

After that I returned to my guesthouse and enjoyed with my Sushi set. I think the Sushi set is a best choice for people who want to eat Sushi with a low price.
